

About Our Guarantee

Most insurance companies use preferred contractors to assist them with settling a claim by performing the work necessary to restore your home back to its pre-loss condition.

The idea behind using preferred contractors is valid in that the contractor is required to meet a criteria as prescribed by the insurance company that ensures a service level commitment based on knowledge, experience, certification, corporate capacity, and quality workmanship. We know this because we are already preferred contractors for some major insurance companies and have serviced individual claims for numerous others.

Though JIT may not be on the preferred contractor list of your insurance company, we believe it's only a matter of time before they begin to recognize the value that we would bring to their customers.

In the event that you submit an insurance claim, it will be explained to you that ultimately, it is your choice when it comes to choosing a contractor to work in your home. Should you choose JIT Remediation & Restoration Inc to do this work, you can be confident in our services since our guarantee is equal to or exceeds that of most insurance companies .
